Make it exciting.

Many routes lead to the Chinese capital. Thousands come every day from the south via the motorway.

In the east, millions of people arrive annually at the airport.

From the west the journey leads down through the impressive mountainous region.

And from the north? We recommend the trip from the Great Wall because the landscape is just drop-dead gorgeous.

Show new routes.

There is another, very attractive way to the sprawling metropolis. It leads via your company!

Accompany your employees through a portal to the town that covers much more than just the four points of a compass.

One that also comprises everything interesting. All desires, all passions and, most notably, all possibilities.
